f. OS/PTS representatives are conducting TEMPEST tests and inspections of the new CRAFT installation [redacted]. This installation is one of the largest CRAFT systems ever installed and will require a total of five weeks to inspect.

25X1

g. OS/PTS personnel have found TEMPEST problems with Department of State (DOS) Alpha Word III Optical Character Readers used in the field. These problems were not found in what were previously thought to be identical CIA units. As a result, OS/PTS officers have met with representatives of the DOS/COMSEC and the DOS and Agency communications schools [redacted] to point out several physical differences in the two units which the manufacturer had identically labeled Model ITC-3T.

SUBJECT:

Weekly Items [REDACTED]
19 - 25 November 1986

25X1

1. On 19 November 1986, a representative from the Security Education Staff participated in Operation Smerf. The SES officer acted as a consultant stressing security issues to DDA CT's in planning the evacuation of an American embassy in the event of a catastrophe. [REDACTED]

25X1

2. On 25 November [REDACTED] students in the OS Special Agents Training Class (SATC) graduated and were presented their certificates by the Director of Security at a ceremony in the Agency Auditorium. The majority of the students will be serving their first tour [REDACTED]

25X1

3. On 17 November a representative from the Security Education Staff (SES), briefed a member of the Special Activities Staff of the Directorate of Operations on an overview of the Office of Security. The briefing was designed to assist SAS personnel in recognizing the OS resources available for their use. [REDACTED]

25X1

4. As part of the ongoing Current Security Issues briefing program, [REDACTED], spoke to more than [REDACTED] personnel from NPIC/DS&T and OIA/DDI on 20 November concerning counterintelligence issues and unauthorized disclosures. In addition, on 18 November, as part of the same program, Clearance Division addressed IMS/DDO on the OS clearance process and Domestic Security Branch responded to a request by OGI/DDI to discuss physical security issues concerning the Ames Building. The Current Security Issues briefing program continues to generate a great deal of interest and has received very favorable responses. [REDACTED]
